

Every Muslim who is able must visit the city of Mecca, Saudi Arabia, once in his or her life. This trip is called the Hajj, and it often takes place in November. Every year, hundreds of thousands of Muslims arrive to participate in religious traditions. The Hajj is one of the most important parts of the Islamic faith.